

LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT (EXECUTIVE)

Leadership Development (Executive)

Development of leadership skills and principles translates into better performance for employees, customers and the company. Our leadership development help managers and supervisors increase their effectiveness as leaders of a changing and challenging workforce.

Participants of the Leadership Training Development will have a greater understanding of:

- Managing your (and your associates) priorities and time.
- How to build effective and productive work teams.
- How to resolve and manage conflict productively and gain problem-solving techniques.
- Making meetings more productive and achieving better results in group settings.
- Easy tips for giving quality presentations.
- Different types of personality styles and effective methods of using these to improve workplace productivity and efficiency.
- How to use clear, open, and honest communication to increase organizational performance.
- The benefits and tools to managing, motivating, mentoring and developing your associates.
- Critical differences between leadership and management; how to lead, not just manage.
- Goals: how to set and achieve them for yourself and your associates.
- Change management and how to deal with its effects on an organization.
